- b. No inning of a 6pm game may start after 7:10pm
- c. No time limit will exist for 7:15pm games. If an injury or other situation occurs which may delay a game, the umpire has the right to adjust game times.
- d. A coin flip will decide home field advantage (regular season only). In the playoffs the team with the best seed ranking will be given home fields advantage.

- e. Suspended Game Rule: Rulebook Rule 5 Section 3 F applies to all playoff games. Playoff games that are stopped due to darkness, rain etc. will be resumed at the exact point where they were stopped and when resumed will be played until a winner is determined.
- f. All regular substitution rules apply for suspended games (1, a-l)
- g. Winning team is responsible to report the game score via email to NTRecsoftball@gmail.com by noon the next day or on the website www.playntrec.com/softball all unreported scores will result in a loss for both teams.
- h. No base stealing is allowed (player can leave the base on contact only)
- i. A pitched ball that makes contact with the plate or mat shall be called a strike

III. Rosters/Substitutions

- a. Teams must have 9 players available to play at the start of the game with no penalty being enforced. Co-Ed will require 9 total players, 4 of which are female, to start the game.
- b. Additional players showing up late must be placed in the last spot in the batting order (Co-Ed must adhere to male/female ratio).
- c. If a team becomes one player short for any reason other than ejection, that team may continue to play shorthanded with an out being recorded each time the vacant batting position is scheduled to bat (It is up to the opposing team, not the umpire, to keep track of when the vacant batting position is up).
- d. If a team starts with an extra player (batting 11 players) and drops to 10 batters for any reason, the penalty listed above (11.c) will be enforced.
- e. Men's & Women's teams may exceed the 11 player batting lineup but must finish with the same amount of players as they started with or penalty (11.c) will be enforced. Co-Ed teams may not exceed 12 players in the batting lineup and must bat a 5th female in order to bat a 7th male.
- f. An extra player arriving late to a game can be immediately inserted into the vacant batting position (Co-Ed must adhere to ratios)
- g. Any player can be substituted or replaced by a player (who has not yet entered the game) and re-enter once, providing the player occupies the same batting position (Note: This means the player can only re-enter the game in the place of the substitute).
- h. Any player re-entering the game not according to the above rule (11.f) will be considered an illegal re-entry and will be disqualified.
- i. A substitute may not fill the vacant batting position of a player who has been ejected from the game. The batting position will remain vacant and an out will be recorded each time the vacant position scheduled to bat (it is up to the opposing team, not the umpire to keep track of when the vacant batting position is up).

- j. A team is permitted one designated hitter to bat in place of one of the ten defensive players. This allows a defensive player to play in the game but not have to bat. If a DH assumes a role on defense, such a move will terminate the DH position for the remainder of the game.
- k. Teams are allotted 3 courtesy runners per game. In addition, a team may designate 1 player to receive a free courtesy runner anytime they reach base that will not count against the 3 per game total (Co-Ed this will be 1 player only, not one per gender). This player must be designated at ground rules. All courtesy runners must be the last out (gender specific in co-ed, 3 total runners, not 3 per gender).
- l. In a Co-Ed game, the pitcher and catcher must be made up of 1 male and 1 female. There is to be a minimum of 1 female in the infield (not counting pitcher or catcher) and 1 female in the outfield at all times.
